

WE WANT TO HEAR FROM YOU! STATEWIDE “COMMUNITY” CONVERSATION ON SCHOOL SAFETY DATA

Your input is important to help the Pennsylvania Department of Education understand how to enhance the sense of safety in districts and schools. We invite you to participate in a statewide Community Conversation on School Safety Data, where you can share your ideas through small group discussions. Your perspective is crucial in fostering a safer and more secure school environment for everyone.

Who should join?

We welcome all community members with ties to school and school-aged children who want to share their school safety priorities, including:

- Parents or guardians, families, students
- Educators, teachers, school staff, administrators, district leaders, and IU staff
- Law enforcement and school safety staff

What will we discuss?

What information about school safety is important for you to know? How can PDE use this information to inform state-level practices about school safety, and emotionally supportive school environments, and enhance student and staff wellness?
